If you’re leading a project or a member of a project team, you know there are plenty of meetings: kick off meetings, design sessions, status meetings, executive sponsor meetings, and the list goes on. How often have you wasted time sitting through meetings where nothing was accomplished? Even worse, how often have you called a meeting only to have the agenda hijacked and watched as it spiraled away from you? If you want to improve your skills in leading productive, efficient meetings, this class is for you! The class will emphasize hands-on exercises where you can practice communicating and facilitating meetings.

Course Description: This class is designed to provide a foundation in managing meetings. The course covers several aspects of meeting management from facilitation and communication to problem solving and conflict management.
